Ambara

"The Day Ends Here."

Ambara is the hour when the city surrenderers its noise. When the sky turns amber and the day concedes its urgency. Twelve homes designed for that hour, extended across every hour of every day.

12
Exclusively private villas.
One community, permanently defined.

10
Year retained estate management team, contractually committed post-possession.

Material substitutions permitted
after design approval. None. Ever.

ABOUT SŌL

Sōl was founded on a single question: what is the last home a person ever needs? The answer has guided every project we have undertaken. We build endings, not starts. Ambara is that answer in its most complete form — twelve villas in Jubilee Hills designed for the family that has stopped looking and started living.

BRAND ARCHITECTURE

35 YEARS | 10M+ SQ FT | COMMERCIAL TRACK RECORD | RESIDENTIAL DEBUT

JUBILEE HILLS | 12 VILLAS ONLY | NO PHASE TWO

THE CONCEPT

The Day Ends Here.

Deep umber ground, warm ivory light, sunset gold accent. The palette of stone at the end of a long day — warm, certain, completely at rest.

12

SCALE

Not selling units. Curating a community. Twelve villas. Not a phase one — the whole project, permanently complete.

SERVICE

Permanent estate team. Concierge per family. Contractual — ten years post-possession. The service is the product.

PERMANENCE

No phase two. No adjacent plot. The twelve-villa structure makes expansion architecturally impossible.

MATERIALS

No substitution after design approval. Designed to a standard — then built to it. What you see is what you receive.

LEGACY

The twelve founding families become the permanent character of this address. Governed and covenanted to last.

LOGOMARK

Initial mark — geometric, inscriptional, scale-invariant. Works embossed, engraved, or reversed on any surface.

LOGO RULES

> The mark is always used in warm tones — never in cool silver or grey, which contradict the brand's thermal register.

> Minimum size 14pt for print; never set the mark below this threshold in any format.

> The mark is never outlined — it is always solid, always warm, always decisive.

Three Worlds Within One

01

The Sunset Terrace

A west-facing private terrace designed around the specific geometry of the Jubilee Hills sunset. A fire table, a long stone bench, and a cooling mist system calibrated to sunset temperature. Reserved for one family — permanently.

02

The Amber Pool

A warm-stone tiled private pool illuminated by submerged amber LEDs at dusk. Temperature held at body warmth through the evening. Surrounded by warm-light planted walls. The pool is at its finest after 6pm — by design.

03

The Dusk Pavilion

A free-standing entertaining pavilion of teak and handmade terracotta tile — open on three sides to garden and sky. A resident chef, a wine programme, and a copper bar. The evening's venue. The city's noise is not permitted here.

THREE-FLOOR CONFIGURATION

EXCLUSIVITY

No shared walls. No shared lobbies. No shared anything.

Every villa is a free-standing structure. Each owner's relationship with the community is voluntary, not architectural.

INTERIOR

Materials specified. Materials delivered.

Every surface, fixture, and fitting is named in the agreement. No substitutions, no compromises. What the drawing promised is what possession delivers.

OUTDOORS

A private garden. A private pool. A private sky.

Each villa owns its outdoor space outright. Landscape design is bespoke — handled by the project's retained design team at the buyer's direction.

PERMANENCE

The community is the twenty-fourth resident.

12 owners define the community forever. The estate management team ensures it stays exactly as designed — from day one through decade three.

FIVE BRAND CLAIMS

What Ambara Does Not Share With Anyone

01

SCALE

"We are not in the business of selling units. We are curating a community."

Twelve villas. Not a phase one. The complete project. Where competitors count floors, Ambara counts families.

02

SERVICE

"We have retained an estate team, contractually, for ten years post-possession."

Not outsourced to whoever wins the next contract. Permanent. Named. Accountable to the twelve families — no one else.

03

PERMANENCE

"There is no phase two. The structure makes expansion architecturally impossible."

Your investment cannot be diluted by a second phase. Your address cannot change by what gets built next door. Structurally protected.

04

MATERIALS

"No material substitution is permitted after design approval."

What you see in the show apartment is what you receive on possession. Zero substitution. Contractual. Unconditional. Written in the sale deed.

05

LEGACY

"The twelve families who take possession become the permanent character of this address."

The project is governed and covenanted to preserve that character across generations. Not a home. A founding position.

Three Creative Languages

01

Dusk

The primary register. The first impression of Ambara — immediate, unhurried, decided. Every visual choice earns this feeling without announcing it.

02

Warmth

The material mood. Grounded in place and stone and time. Ambara does not abstract away from the physical world — it celebrates the finest version of it.

03

Amber ritual

The underlying register. Ambara does not say what it is — it is known to those who know. This mood is for the collector who needs no introduction.

HYDERABAD

Prashashan Nagar
Jubilee Hills

THE ADDRESS

Jubilee Hills, Prashashan Nagar

One of India's most established residential precincts. The density of wealth, taste, and institutional proximity here is unmatched in the city. The postcode is itself a credential.

THE CONTEXT

Malibu of Hyderabad

Not a comparison — a reference point. The privacy, the altitude, the views, and the neighbours define the Jubilee Hills premium. Ambara is at its centre, not its edge.

PROXIMITY

5 minutes from everything. 0 minutes from privacy.

The finest schools, hospitals, clubs, and cultural institutions are within minutes. The outside world is available when wanted — never intrusive when not.

THE ADDRESS THAT NEEDS NO INTRODUCTION.
