Ākāśa

"Above. Always."

Ākāśa is not height. It is altitude of position — the distance from everything ordinary, maintained permanently, built into the structure of the address and the discipline of the community.

12
Exclusively private villas.
One community, permanently defined.

10
Year retained estate management team, contractually committed post-possession.

0
Material substitutions permitted
after design approval. None. Ever.

ABOUT ZENITH

Zenith occupies a single position: the top. Not the top of the market — the top of what is possible, period. We build for clients who have exhausted everywhere else and require something with no precedent to compare it to. Ākāśa is that project — twelve villas in Jubilee Hills, defined by an absolute and held by the twelve families who understand what that means.

BRAND ARCHITECTURE

- 35 YEARS
- 10M+ SQ FT
- COMMERCIAL TRACK RECORD
- RESIDENTIAL DEBUT
- JUBILEE HILLS
- 12 VILLAS ONLY
- NO PHASE TWO

THE CONCEPT

Above. Always.

12

Night navy ground, moonlight silver surface, aged gold accent. The palette of clear skies, polished stone, and the precise quality of starlight over the city.

SCALE

Not selling units. Curating a community. Twelve villas. Not a phase one — the whole project, permanently complete.

SERVICE

Permanent estate team. Concierge per family. Contractual — ten years post-possession. The service is the product.

PERMANENCE

No phase two. No adjacent plot. The twelve-villa structure makes expansion architecturally impossible.

MATERIALS

No substitution after design approval. Designed to a standard — then built to it. What you see is what you receive.

LEGACY

The twelve founding families become the permanent character of this address. Governed and covenanted to last.

LOGOMARK

Ā

Initial mark — geometric, inscriptional, scale-invariant. Works embossed, engraved, or reversed on any surface.

LOGO RULES

> The mark appears once per surface — never repeated, never patterned, never used decoratively.

> On digital surfaces, the mark is always silver or ivory — never the gold accent, which belongs exclusively to physical applications.

> Clear space equals twice the cap-height of the accompanying logotype on all four sides.

Three Worlds Within One

01

The Sky Deck

A private rooftop terrace at 42 feet, 270-degree views of the Jubilee Hills skyline. Fire table. Cooling mist. A single wire rail — invisible in the view. The city is below. That is precisely the point.

02

The Celestial Pool

A roof-level infinity pool of polished pale granite, oriented to the east for dawn light. Submerged LED system calibrated to match the current phase of the moon. Temperature held at 28°C through all seasons.

03

The Starlight Terrace

A private observatory-grade dark-sky terrace. Observatory telescope, resident astronomer available on residency terms. Monthly sky events for the community. The city lights are below the parapet. The sky is entirely yours.

THREE-FLOOR CONFIGURATION

EXCLUSIVITY

No shared walls. No shared lobbies. No shared anything.

Every villa is a free-standing structure. Each owner's relationship with the community is voluntary, not architectural.

INTERIOR

Materials specified. Materials delivered.

Every surface, fixture, and fitting is named in the agreement. No substitutions, no compromises. What the drawing promised is what possession delivers.

OUTDOORS

A private garden. A private pool. A private sky.

Each villa owns its outdoor space outright. Landscape design is bespoke — handled by the project's retained design team at the buyer's direction.

PERMANENCE

The community is the twenty-fourth resident.

12 owners define the community forever. The estate management team ensures it stays exactly as designed — from day one through decade three.

FIVE BRAND CLAIMS

What Ākāśa Does Not Share With Anyone

01

SCALE

"We are not in the business of selling units. We are curating a community."

Twelve villas. Not a phase one. The complete project. Where competitors count floors, Ākāśa counts families.

02

SERVICE

"We have retained an estate team, contractually, for ten years post-possession."

Not outsourced to whoever wins the next contract. Permanent. Named. Accountable to the twelve families — no one else.

03

PERMANENCE

"There is no phase two. The structure makes expansion architecturally impossible."

Your investment cannot be diluted by a second phase. Your address cannot change by what gets built next door. Structurally protected.

04

MATERIALS

"No material substitution is permitted after design approval."

What you see in the show apartment is what you receive on possession. Zero substitution. Contractual. Unconditional. Written in the sale deed.

05

LEGACY

"The twelve families who take possession become the permanent character of this address."

The project is governed and covenanted to preserve that character across generations. Not a home. A founding position.

Three Creative Languages

01

Altitude

The primary register. The first impression of Ākāśa — immediate, unhurried, decided. Every visual choice earns this feeling without announcing it.

02

Clarity

The material mood. Grounded in place and stone and time. Ākāśa does not abstract away from the physical world — it celebrates the finest version of it.

03

Celestial gold

The underlying register. Ākāśa does not say what it is — it is known to those who know. This mood is for the collector who needs no introduction.

The Location — Ākāśa

HYDERABAD

Prashashan Nagar
Jubilee Hills

THE ADDRESS

Jubilee Hills, Prashashan Nagar

One of India's most established residential precincts. The density of wealth, taste, and institutional proximity here is unmatched in the city. The postcode is itself a credential.

THE CONTEXT

Malibu of Hyderabad

Not a comparison — a reference point. The privacy, the altitude, the views, and the neighbours define the Jubilee Hills premium. Ākāśa is at its centre, not its edge.

PROXIMITY

5 minutes from everything. 0 minutes from privacy.

The finest schools, hospitals, clubs, and cultural institutions are within minutes. The outside world is available when wanted — never intrusive when not.

THE ADDRESS THAT NEEDS NO INTRODUCTION.

Ākāśa

"Above. Always."
